It will be seen from S.Ns. 4, 5 & 6/261-1911, that the question of appointing an Electricl - Inspector in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore was raised in 1917, but was dropped, as the District Magistrate considered that such an Inspector was not required for the Station as the system of Electricity in Bangalore was run by a Government* Department. Headquarters, Madras District, pointed out that the supply of electric energy in Bangalore has for some time past been unsatisfactory and for the reasons given in the P.U.C. they recommend that an Electrical Inspector may be appointed to watch the consumers' interests. They suggest that the jurisdiction of the Electrical Inspector to Madras Government might be ~~included~~ extended to include the Civil and Military Station.

It may be mentioned with reference to paragraph 2 of P.U.C. that the Indian Electrical Rules of 1911 have been superseded by the Rules* of 1922 and that under rule 26 of the latter Rules the pressure of supply shall not vary from the declared pressure by more than 5 per cent in the case of low or medium pressure and by more than 12½ per cent in the case of high pressure. Before examining the matter further, the District Magistrate may be consulted as the matter now rests with his letter of 1917.

Letter No.9204/107/E.4, dated the 20th Septr. 1933, from Headquarters, Madras District, Bangalore.

Please see S.N.3 and 4.

The Dt. Magte. says that the question of the appointment of a separate Electrical Inspector for the Station will have to be deferred till revised rules are framed for the Station. Rules were issued by this Residency under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903 (III of 1903). When this Act was repealed by Act IX of 1910 it was proposed to frame a new set of rules under ~~this~~ the latter Act. For a brief history on this subject please see para 29 of the notes in file 543/01. From this it will be seen that the question of framing Electricity Rules for the Station was dropped until the Government of Mysore had made their rules. The Dist. Magte. was informed of this in May 1926 and he was asked to obtain and forward a copy of these rules to this office in due course. In Jany 1932 the Secy. to the Govt. of Mysore, Electrical Department, informed the District Magistrate that the final orders of Government had not yet been passed in the matter. and this was communicated to this

this Residency. No further communication has since been received. In this connection please see para 10 of notes in file 383/28

Supply of Electric Energy in Bangalore.

S.N.2 of (12)

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.4419/383-1928 dated June 15th, 1933, I have to state that the supply of electric energy in Bangalore has for some time past been unsatisfactory.

2. Under the Indian Electricity Rules 1911 (× 1922) the pressure of supply must not vary from the declared pressure by more than plus 4% (minus 5%). A number of pressure tests have recently been made in military buildings and in no case does the variation fall within the prescribed limits - in some cases this variation is as much as plus 14% minus. The result is that the life of lamp bulbs is materially reduced and great trouble is experienced with domestic power consuming appliances such as refrigerators.

S.N.328/2 (5)

3. Again shut downs of the supply are frequent and sometimes of considerable duration. There is also reason to believe that meters are not always accurate and in case of dispute these can only be checked in the suppliers laboratories.

4. I have therefore to recommend that an Electrical Inspector be appointed to watch the consumers interests

It...

It is suggested that the jurisdiction of the Electrical Inspector to Madras Government (might) be extended to include the C.& M. Station.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,
